ABOUT UDRF-SI

The University of Delaware Research Foundation, Inc. (UDRF) is a nonprofit, tax-exempt organization supporting fundamental research in all fields of science. Although an independent corporation, it is chartered primarily to support the University’s research mission. In 1994, the UDRF Board of Trustees redefined its mission to focus on providing research grants to early-career permanent faculty within science and engineering disciplines.

Established in 2008, the University of Delaware Research Foundation Strategic Initiatives (UDRF-SI) program supports innovative, high-impact scientific research proposals that are likely to elevate the research prominence and the competitiveness of UD’s faculty researchers.

ELIGIBILITY FOR UDRF STRATEGIC INITIATIVES (UDRF-SI) GRANTS

In the past, UDRF-SI grants have been primarily in the fields of engineering and the natural and physical sciences. However, proposed work using scientific methods geared towards improving the PI’s research competitiveness for future external funding are eligible. Teams must include one untenured, tenure-track faculty Principal Investigator (PI) and at least one tenured faculty co-PI. Previous UDRF-SI grant PI recipients are ineligible. Collaborating tenured faculty who have received UDRF and/or UDRF SI funding in the past are eligible to again participate as co-PI. Faculty may apply to both the UDRF and UDRF-SI programs in a calendar year. However, only one award may be received per calendar year.

PROPOSAL EVALUATION

Furthering the professional development of the recipients and advancing the University’s research prominence are the UDRF-SI’s primary objectives. Selection for funding will be based on:

1. Intellectual Merit (40%): Does the proposed work significantly advance domain knowledge, address one of the University’s strategic pillars, and enhance the PI’s research competitiveness?
2. Collaboration (20%): Does the collaboration press the PIs into a novel research area requiring the expertise of both collaborators?
3. Mentoring Plan (10%): Does the proposal include a substantive mentoring plan?
4. Feasibility (10%): Likelihood of completion within one to two years.
5. Likelihood of Future External Funding (20%): Does the proposal articulate clear achievable goals which will likely attract new external funding?

AWARD SELECTION

University of Delaware Research Foundation grants are awarded based on eligibility and merit and administered by the UD Research Office. UDRF-SI proposals are first evaluated by UD faculty experts, and then by an administrative panel responsible for advancing research both within and across colleges. The UDRF Board of Trustees makes the final award decisions based on the input of this two-tiered review process.
PROPOSAL INFORMATION

PROJECT BUDGET
UDRF-SI proposals may request up to $55,000 of which $35,000 is sponsor direct funding with an additional $10,000 in match funds from the PI’s Dean and $10,000 from the Provost’s Office. All UDRF-SI proposals require matching funds from the PI’s College and Provost’s Office. If a larger amount is requested, the proposal should specifically address the need, benefits, and impact of a larger budget request.

BUDGETING GUIDELINES

Personnel: Graduate research assistant (RA) stipends, hourly wage, and other positions providing technical assistance are allowable.

Fringe Benefits: As required by the personnel categories budgeted.

Direct research expenses: Equipment, travel, participant support costs, and supplies.

Unallowable budget categories: Facilities and administrative (F&A) costs, graduate tuition, and faculty salary

All budgets should be prepared with the understanding that budget changes exceeding 25% of the total award and re-budgeting of funds into categories not in the original budget are subject to prior approval by the Research Office. See the UDRF-SI Post-Award section below for more information.

PROPOSAL DURATION
UDRF Strategic Initiatives grants are awarded for up to two years with periods of performance commencing from project start date. No-cost extensions may granted up to three times only when circumstances warrant. Instructions can be found in the UDRF-SI Post-Award section.

PROPOSAL COMPONENTS & FORMATTING
UDRF-SI proposals are submitted using the UDRF-SI Proposal Template. All components should be single-spaced using 11-pt Arial font with one-inch margins. Additional information such as References, Budget Justifications, CVs, and Current & Pending Support should be combined with the proposal template and submitted as a single PDF document. Incomplete applications will be returned without review.

Executive Summary: A one page section consisting of three sub-sections: overview; a statement of intellectual merit; and a statement of broader impacts. The overview should include a description of the scientific scope of the proposal and potential future sources of external funding. The statement of intellectual merit should describe how the project will advance knowledge and understanding in the domain. The statement of broader impacts should describe how the project will benefit society and contribute to the achievement of specific, desired societal outcomes.

Project Description: A three-page section providing a statement of work including clear, achievable goals within the proposed timeline and expected significance of the proposed research. The project’s intellectual merit and broader impacts should be fully described upon in the Project Description. Include any relevant figures or tables. Investigators should specifically address approaches for seeking external funding. The entire Project Description should be clear to a reviewer with a technical/scientific background, but who may not be an expert in the field.
